

TLC Project: HCV treatment referrals

For clients who will be released from custody before they are able to start HCV treatment, a referral should be sent to an HCV treatment provider in the community they are most likely to return to. Below is a list of HCV treatment providers will experience treating people who have been incarcerated.

Referrals can be sent by faxing a letter with most recent HCV RNA results attached, or faxing through the clinics referral form if available. The clinics are able to provide telehealth consults and can begin seeing patients before release from custody, to begin treatment work-up prior to return to the community. Additional clinics providing HCV treatment in BC can be located if required through the BCCDC hep C clinics map (link at bottom of page).
